CEO Corner

Spring is here, a great time to shop for a car or consider home remodeling projects. At the credit union, we are seeing price increases across the board, including cars, homes, and everyday goods and services. Where are these increases showing up most?

First, we see it in our average auto loan. The average loan amount is $4,000 higher this year than it was a year ago. That's a significant jump.

Next, we're seeing increases in debit and credit card transactions. Gas, food, and clothing are all contributing to higher purchase amounts. If you've ever walked out of a store or restaurant and thought, "Wow, that cost more than I remember," you're not alone. You have 24,000 fellow members at SharePoint Credit Union experiencing the same thing.

We're here to help, so please don't hesitate to call us.

Speaking of calling us, did you know that 70% of our loans and services were handled by phone or online over the past year? While we still say "call, click, or stop in," the reality is that most members prefer convenient service online or over the phone.

As member preferences evolve, we're evolving with you. We are currently remodeling our main office at 5300 Hyland Greens Drive in Bloomington to bring more of our teams together in one location, allowing us to serve you even more efficiently.

Today, our teams are already answering your calls, taking applications, and fulfilling your requests quickly and efficiently, whether you reach out by phone or online. This remodel brings everything together to make that experience even more seamless.

While we continue to invest in technology, one thing will never change: you will always connect with a real person. When you call or click, you'll reach a SharePoint Credit Union employee who understands your needs and is here to help you make informed financial decisions. We no longer use a call center. When you contact SharePoint Credit Union, you'll always connect with a member of our team.

Lastly, thank you for your membership and for trusting us with your financial needs. We truly appreciate you as we move into our 93rd year of service.

Spring Clean Your Finances and Find New Ways to Save

Spring is a great time to refresh and reset and that includes your finances. With the cost of everyday expenses continuing to rise, taking a little time to review your finances and look for ways to save can make a big difference for your family.

Here are a few simple ways to tidy up your finances and stretch your budget this season.

Take a Fresh Look at Your Budget

Start by reviewing your income, monthly bills, and spending habits. Over time, expenses can increase or change without us noticing. A quick budget check can help you see where your money is going and identify opportunities to cut back.

Lower Everyday Expenses

Small changes can lead to meaningful savings. Consider:

- Planning meals before grocery shopping
- Cooking more meals at home
- Limiting impulse purchases
- Reviewing subscriptions or services you may no longer use

These simple habits can help reduce monthly expenses and free up money for savings or other priorities.

Review Your Monthly Bills

Spring is also a good time to review your regular bills such as internet, phone plans, and insurance. Sometimes switching plans or adjusting services can help lower your monthly costs.

Find Free or Low-Cost Family Activities

Spending time together doesn't have to be expensive. Many communities offer activities that are fun and affordable, including parks, local events, library programs, and outdoor concerts. These activities can help families create great memories while keeping spending in check.

Check in on Your Financial Goals

Whether you're saving for a vacation, building an emergency fund, or planning a big purchase, reviewing your goals can help keep you on track. Even small contributions can add up over time.

Helping Teens Build Smart Money Habits

The teenage years are a great time to start learning money management. Whether teens are earning their first paycheck, saving for a car, or planning for college, building good financial habits now sets them up for success in the future.

Here are a few simple ways families can help teens build confidence with money.

Start with the Basics: Earning, Saving, and Spending

A great first step is helping teens understand how money works. If they have a job, allowance, or occasional income, encourage them to divide their money into categories like spending, saving, and giving. This helps teens learn that every dollar should have a purpose and encourages thoughtful money decisions early on.

Help Teens Set a Savings Goal

Teens are more motivated to save when they're working toward a goal, such as:

- A car
- College expenses
- Clothes or technology
- A trip or special activity

Setting a goal helps teens see how saving a little at a time can really add up.

Introduce a Checking and Savings Account

Opening an All-Star Account at SharePoint Credit Union introduces real-world money management. It gives teens the opportunity to:

- Track their spending
- Learn how debit cards work
- Understand how to manage an account balance
- Build strong saving habits

These experiences help prepare teens for financial independence in the future.

Talk About Smart Spending

The world constantly pressures teens to spend money. Talking about the difference between needs and wants can help them make smarter financial decisions. Involving teens in everyday financial choices like budgeting for groceries, planning trips, or comparing prices can also be a great learning opportunity.

Teach the Basics of Credit

Understanding how credit works early can make a big difference later. Explaining the importance of paying bills on time, managing debt responsibly, and maintaining a good credit history can help them build a strong financial foundation.

Give Them a Chance to Practice

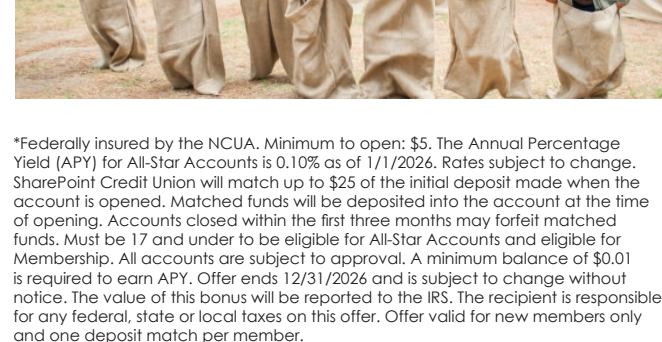

One of the best ways teens learn about money is by managing some of it themselves. Allowing them to make spending decisions and even learn from small mistakes helps build confidence and real-life money skills.
